SOURCE #2: Title: Caring for a Frodochimp

When he was little they send him to space, the monkey at Ham had to land.

Since the monkey Ham was excited, I think that they got him out of the cage; and love them and not get him out for years. After Ham had to be smart because the monkey he had to land the colors from the numbers.

I think that they the monkey had a dipel because if or the scientist could cheat the pop to see if they are sick

First Ham went to space and then he went to the ocean and then they rescued him then he die

The monkey has to be smart every day, therefore so they could get they food and please a bowl

When ham pressed the buttons, the scientist learned what he had send.

Since he practiced for men this, I think that he was really prepared and didn't freak out.

After all the stages have past, the capsule went back to the atmosphere very fast.

I think that the hassles had a lot of fuel because it took ham more higher than they had planned.

First the capsule made a parachute, then the parachute extended to make the landing more safe.
The capsule jumped on the atlantic ocean, therefore the navy and force went to save it.
